

Hello!

My name is Chloe Zierke and I am a new afternoon teacher this year. I am 16 years old and junior at Norwalk High School. I am the oldest child in my family with one younger sister who is 11. I spent the first five years of my life in Urbandale and moved to Norwalk half way through kindergarten.

I spend half my school day at Norwalk high school and the other half at dmacc or observing different elementary classrooms. I take my education very seriously and have earned a 3.8 Commutative GPA because of it. My plan after I graduate from high school is to go to Northwest Missouri State. There I plan to double major in early special education and early education. This allows me to teach special education or a regular classroom of students anywhere from birth to 3rd grade.

For fun I like to paint, play board games, and hang out with my friends. I also love to watch Netflix. My favorite show at the moment are Once. Soon I also plan to start volunteering at child serve. When I'm in the car traveling between my daily events I love to listen to country. Some fun things I have had the opportunity to do is go to Hawaii twice, participate in a inflatable 5k with my two best friends at my side, and go to Florida with my family.
